Lord Of Fire

Music and Lyrics: Andy

Born of the pit — shadow and flame,
Forged in the dark — no wings, no chain.
The ground will quake beneath my tread,
The world shall burn, the stars turn red.

No sword can pierce me,
No spell can bind.
I scorch the earth,
I blind the mind.

Fire and Ruin — Ashes remain!
Fire and Ruin — nothing sustains!
I am the ending, the world shall fall,
I am the Dragon, the death of all!

Elves shall wither, men shall bleed,
Dwarves shall break on dragon's creed.
Forests crumble, seas shall boil,
All creation turns to spoil.

No hope is left,
No prayer is heard.
The crown is mine,
The final word.

Fire and Ruin — Ashes remain!
Fire and Ruin — nothing sustains!
I am the ending, the world shall fall,
I am the Dragon, the death of all!

Dreams shall fade... hope shall die...
All shall fall... beneath my eye...
Yet in the dark — a whisper grows...
A fate no dragon yet foreknows.

Fire and Ruin — Ashes and flame!
Fire and Ruin — none shall remain!
The world is broken, the end untold...
Shall fire reign — or shall it fold?

Rise!

Music and Lyrics: Andy

In the hush before the breaking,
when the world began to fade,
She felt the trembling of the earth,
the sorrow unafraid.

Her tears fell down like silver rain
upon the wounded land,
And darkness rose to claim the sky
from every mortal hand.

Her brother's fire consumed the dawn,
her heart was torn in two,
The sea cried out, the mountains wept,
and shadows ever grew.

Yet from her pain a whisper came,
a glimmer through the cry:
"The flame within shall never fade,
though all the world may die."

Rise, Lóthienar, Rise!
Light of the fallen sky!
Rise, Lóthienar, Rise!

Your voice ignites the hearts that dare to try!

Rise, Lóthienar, Rise!
When all is lost,
Rise, Lóthienar, Rise!

when hope seems gone
we'll rise because of you!

She raised her hands against the storm,
her spirit fierce and wild,
"Come, sisters, brothers, walk with me
the night shall be beguiled!"

The wind obeyed, the shadows fled
before her blazing eyes,
And courage bloomed in every soul
beneath the shattered skies.

Through the silence of despair,
through the ashes and the tears,
She walks where angels fear to tread,
defying all her fears.

For every heart that breaks in pain,
a spark is born anew
The strength of Lóthienar
burns in me, burns in you.

And in the hush of twilight's breath,
her voice still softly sighs:
"Walk on, my children, through the dark for love shall never die.

Banner des Lichts

Music: Andy Lyrics: Andy/Jasmin

So viele Wege gibt's, dich zu verstehen, in all den Farben, die um uns wehen.
O schöne Welt, dein Glanz vereint,
du schenkst uns Freude, die ewig scheint.

Oh, preiset Ayra, die Himmelsmutter,
Mutter des Lichts, das ewig brennt.
Jedes Volk, jeder Stamm, jede Sprache,
Dies ist unser Ruf: Nyrassar erblüh.

Wir reichen Hände über jedes Land,
steh'n auf für Freiheit, Hand in Hand.
Hilf uns, gemeinsam stark zu sein,
und deinem Licht zu dienen, rein.

Jede Geschichte, die wir besteh'n, lässt deine Schöpfung heller wehn.
Bald kommt der Tag, da wir versteh'n, wie all dein Licht durch Herzen geht.

Oh, preiset Ayra, die Himmelsmutter,
Mutter des Lichts, das ewig brennt.
Jedes Volk, jeder Stamm, jede Sprache,
Dies ist unser Ruf: Nyrassar erblüh.

Brüder und Schwestern, vereint im Licht,
Mütter und Väter im Angesicht.
Kinder des Himmels, gesegnet und frei, vereint unter dem Banner, kommt herbei.

Brüder, Schwestern, steh'n Hand in Hand,
alles geschieht in deinem Land.
Ayra, du führst uns, stark und mild,
unter dem Banner, das ewig gilt.

Oh, preiset Ayra, die Himmelsmutter,
Mutter des Lichts, das ewig brennt.
Jedes Volk, jeder Stamm, jede Sprache,
Dies ist unser Ruf: Nyrassar erblüh.

Oh, preiset Ayra, die Himmelsmutter,
Mutter des Lichts, das ewig brennt.
Jedes Volk, jeder Stamm, jede Sprache,
Dies ist unser Ruf: Nyrassar erblüh.

Möge Nyrassar erblüh'n, ja...

Bane Of Darkness

Music and Lyrics: Andy

From the elven forests
A child stood alone
Facing dark commanders
Fighting for her home

In the second battle
Against Morgoth's reign
Steel and courage rising
Through the blood and pain

Shadow cannot break her
Light will never fade

Fendril, warrior of the ancient light
Fendril, standing fearless in the fight
Fendril, legends carved in fire and stone
Fendril, darkness falls before the throne

Leading armies forward
Into the final war
Balrog meets its master
Demon is no more

Shadow cannot break her
Light will never fade

Three wars, three victories
From child to commander rise
The bane of darkness
Eternal in our eyes

Fendril, warrior of the ancient light
Fendril, standing fearless in the fight
Fendril, legends carved in fire and stone
Fendril, shadows bow before her throne

Burn!

Music and Lyrics: Andy

Burn
Burn
Burn

Born of shadow's endless reign,
Your heart of ash, of dust and pain,
From deepest dark you rose again,
To serve his will through blood and chain.

Your soul corrupted, torn apart,
By wrath and night that rule your heart,
A sinful flame, no mercy born,
To death condemned, by darkness sworn.

Burn, burn, burn — I bring thee death,
Burn, burn, burn — till none is left,
Burn, burn, burn — consume the sky,
Turn to ashes, fade, and die.

Slaughter is your sweet delight,
Fear your drink in endless night,
A vessel forged of searing fire,
Your gift to all — the death they hire.

Burn, burn, burn — I bring thee death,
Burn, burn, burn — till none is left,
Burn, burn, burn — consume the sky,
Turn to ashes, fade, and die.

In the smoke I see your name,
Whispered soft through blood and flame,
No dawn will come, no soul will stay —
For light itself has turned away.

Burn, burn, burn — I bring thee death,
Burn, burn, burn — till none is left,
Burn, burn, burn — the end is nigh,
Fall to ashes, fade, and die.

Burn

Lead Us Home

Music: Andy Lyrics: Andy/Jasmin

When the stars are fading slowly,
And the night feels cold and long,
There's a whisper in the distance,
Soft and pure — a gentle song.
It speaks of dreams not yet forgotten,
Of hearts that never truly die,
In the silence of our shadows,
A single flame begins to rise.

Light will lead us home again,
Through the dark, through wind and rain.
Hold my hand, we'll never fall —
Love will be our guide through all.
Light will lead us, lead us home...
Lead us home.

Though the road is ever winding,
And the dawn feels far away,
Every tear becomes a promise
That the sun will find its way.
The broken learn to see the beauty,
The lost remember where they're from,
And in each heart, the stars are shining,
Calling softly, "You belong."

Light will lead us home again,
Through the dark, through wind and rain.
Hold my hand, we'll never fall —
Love will be our guide through all.
Light will lead us, lead us home...

Even in the quiet sorrow,
Hope will bloom like morning's fire,
Every soul that dares to follow,
Finds the light of true desire.

Light will lead us home again,
Through the dark, through wind and rain.
Hold my heart, and I will stay —
Love will light our every way.
Light will lead us, lead us home...
Lead us home.

We Are The Storm

Music: Andy/Matti Lyrics: Jasmin

While we waited in the dark,
hopeless hearts without a spark,
shadows closed their arms so tight,
we were prisoners of night.

We raise our blades in shadow's breath,
our blood unites with dust and death.
We are the stronghold, last to fall,
the burning wall that shields us all.

We are the lost ones,
we are the broken,
no mercy left, no word unspoken.
We fight for freedom, we fight for light,
we praise the dawn that ends the night.

Praise the morning's holy flame,
praise the eve that speaks your name.
Praise the world where hearts are free,
the world that gives us destiny.

We are the fire, we are the wall,
we are the hope that conquers all.
We are the storm, we are the flame,
the victory that none can tame.

We are the lost ones,
we are the broken,
no mercy left, no word unspoken.
We fight for freedom, we fight for light,
we praise the dawn that ends the night.

Praise the morning's holy flame,
praise the eve that speaks your name.
Praise the world where hearts are free,
the world that gives us destiny.

We pay the price, the highest cost,
we stand between the light and lost.
We will not yield till night's undone,
we fight until the rising sun.

And when the shadows fade away,
our light will rise and lead the day.

Song Of The Galdrim

Music and Lyrics: Andy

When time was young and stars were dim,
The roots awoke, the trees did hymn,
The world herself gave us command:
"Guard my breath, my leaf, my land."
With voice of thunder, slow and deep,
We woke the forest from its sleep,
To stand as wardens, stern and tall,
The eldest children, first of all.

But shadows came with fire's breath,
The Dark One sang the song of death,
We felt the world begin to fall,
Her broken heartbeat heard by all.

We are the Galdrim, keepers of green,
Older than daylight, older than dream.
Bound by sorrow, crowned with flame,
Guardians eternal, ever the same.
We are the Galdrim, wrath in our veins,
Singing of forests, singing of chains.
With every tree that falls, we cry,
And none but we shall hear her sigh.

The world was healed, and life did grow,
Through rain and sun, through fire and snow.
We healed her wounds with tender hand,
We walked the breadth of sea and land.
But Children came — the fair, the proud,
With voices strong, with laughter loud.
They carved, they burned, they took, they claimed,
And never once they spoke her name.

With axe and fire, heartless, wild,
They slay the mother, undefiled.
And though they live, and though they sing,
They break the root, they break the ring.

Hear the groaning of the earth,
Hear the silence after birth.
Every stump a grave, a tomb,
Every spark a world's undoing.
Still we stand, though hearts are torn,
Still we guard the ancient morn.
Until the stars themselves shall fade,
We keep the vow the World hath made.

We are the Galdrim, keepers of green,
Older than sorrow, older than sin.
Cursed with anger, blessed with song,
Silent we suffer, endless, strong.
We are the Galdrim, wrath in our veins,
Singing of forests, singing of chains.
With every tree that falls, we cry,
The world shall live — though we may die.

Du bist der Sturm

Music and Lyrics: Andy

Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Phönix,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Sturm,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Phönix,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Sturm,

Wir sind gegangen durch Schatten und Nacht,
Verloren geglaubt, von der Finsternis bewacht.
Doch deine Stimme rief still meinen Namen,
Hoffnung keimte, wie aus einem Samen.

Dein Atem weckt mein schlafend Herz,
Löst Schatten, Dunkelheit und Schmerz.
Wir sahen den Morgen im Dunkel erwachen,
Du gabst uns Kraft, ein erstes Lachen.

Ein kleines Korn im Aschenfeld, vom Wind der Sterne leis bestellt.
Es keimt empor aus Glut und Traum, aus Staub erwacht ein junger Baum.

Oh-oh, oh-oh, wie der Phönix aus der Asche,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, aus Feuer und Sturm,

Er trinkt das Licht, er trotzt dem Wind,
bis seine Blätter Lieder sind.
Und wo sein Herz die Erde hält, erblüht aus ihm die ganze Welt.

Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Phönix,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Sturm,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Phönix,
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Du bist der Sturm,

Wir tragen dein Leuchten in zitternden Händen,
Dein Funken, wir werden ihn in die Dunkelheit senden,
Das Licht, es wird deinen Namen tragen
Bis Schatten und Ängste vor dir verzagen.

Und wenn die Nacht uns fest umschließt,
Wärme durch unsere Adern fließt,
Dann wissen wir – es ist das Licht,
Der helle Schein, der in uns spricht.

Oh-oh, oh-oh, Nimm uns mit, vergiss uns nicht.
Oh-oh, oh-oh, Nimm uns mit, vergiss uns nicht.

Wir gehen weiter im Glanz deines Scheins,
Aus der Dunkelheit ins Licht, wir sind nie allein.
Und was verloren schien, wird auferstehen,
Dein Licht wird der Finsternis widersteh'n.

Thousand Voices

Music: Andy / Matti Lyrics: Andy

Shine, Silrandor, shine so bright,
Guide our hearts through darkest night.
Dreams are born where you stand tall,
Starfire flows through one and all.

You hold the pain, you hold the flame.
We'll never be the same.

Beneath the hills where starlight sleeps,
there stands the tree of glass,
Its roots entwine the dreams of men,
the future and the past.

Within its heart the silence hums,
a pulse both strange and near,
The breath of worlds long lost to time
yet whispering clear.

I touched its trunk, the world stood still,
my spirit drowned in flame,
I saw the tears of ages fall,
yet none would bear the blame.

A thousand voices called to me,
both tender and severe,
And in their sound I heard myself,
both distant and sincere.

The lights within began to move,
they danced like souls in flight,
Each spark a hope, a wound, a vow,
a promise made to light.

I felt the world remember me,
and I could understand
That every life, and every loss,
was written in its hand.

It shows what's lost, it shows what's true,
It shows the me that once was you.
Through crystal bark and silver veins,
It sings of joy through ancient pain.

Shine, Silrandor, shine so bright,
Guide our hearts through darkest night.
Dreams are born where you stand tall,
Starfire flows through one and all.

You hold the pain, you hold the flame.
We'll never be the same.

Will you touch it?
Can you bear it?
Do you seek the truth... or flee the light?
Silrandor waits.
Choose.

Where Silence Speaks

Music: Andy Lyrics: Jasmin

I'm sitting by the old pine tree,
the sky above is clear and free.
Let the sunlight warm my face,
through the night's unending chase.
When even stars forget to shine,
let your light fall over mine.

I try to soar where swallows flee,
and swim where silver rivers be.

I listen to the water's song,
my spirit drifts where I belong.
Let your glow fall down on me,
though mist may steal what I can see.
When all the world turns cold and gray,
your flame will guide my way.

Let your light fall on me, let it burn through my pain,
Wash my soul like the softest rain.
Lift me high where the lost are found,
where silence speaks and hearts resound.
Shine through fear, through storm and sea,
'til only your truth remains in me.

I dance upon the narrow line,
sing through thunder's wild design.
I close my eyes — in you I see,
the strength that flows and sets me free.
Though shadows fall and time may wane,
your light will feed my soul again.

Let your light, your endless sea —
forever fall on me.

Valinors Light

Music and Lyrics: Andyn

Clear are thy eyes and golden your hair
And your spirit is clear like the wind
Do not cast her away from your thought, oh Lord
Don't take the Valinorian spirit from her

Restore to me the joy of Valinorian light
And pour your spirit in me
Then I will find your ways in the dark
Back to lands you once didn't know

Fallen are we, yet bright is our flame,
For the memory of stars still remains.
Do not let the shadow devour our grace,
Remember the songs of the West.

Restore to me the joy of Valinorian light
And pour your spirit in me
Then I will find your ways in the dark
Back to lands you once didn't know

Far from the shores where the white gulls cry,
We wander in silence and pain.
But still in our hearts the light will not die,
Till Valinor calls us again.

Restore to me the joy of Valinorian light
And pour your spirit in me
Then I will find your ways in the dark
Back to lands you once didn't know

Shine upon me, O light of the West,
Wash my soul in thy flame.
Guide me home through the twilight grey,
Till I rest in thy name.

These are crazy times, and channeling one's creativity - whether through music or books - is a beautiful thing.

This album allows me to combine my two passions: I write epic stories and bring them to life through the music of Elbereth's Grace. It's a truly rewarding experience that I enjoy immensely.

I would like to take this moment to thank Jasmin, who made all of this possible. My gratitude also goes out to my Finnish brothers, who have been by my side for many years.

Finally, thank you to everyone who follows my creative journey, whether you're listening to my music or lost in the pages of my books.

I appreciate every single one of you.
